

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Delicious, "fruit laxative"
and bowels.

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, aches—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A table-spoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning.

Without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

HOPE CELEBRATE BATTLE OF JENA WITH VICTORIES

Efforts of General Von Kluck to Smash Allies' Left Have So Far Failed—German Fleet Stated to Be Unusually Active in the Baltic Sea—Turkey Again in Mix-up Regarding Reports That Two Boats Purchased From Germans Are Nearing Russians.

London, Oct. 14.—There is hope in London today that the anniversary of the battle of Jena in which the French claimed a victory over the Prussians last August just 100 years ago today, may be celebrated along both battle fronts by events recalling this great and decisive struggle, but whatever the outcome but meagre dispatches can be expected as only the briefest reports are received of what is now transpiring in Belgium, France and Russian Poland.

The latest French official communication declares there is nothing to report except a notable advance in the region of Arras and Valenciennes, but Petrograd gives out the cryptic statement that warlike operations continue to develop along the Vistula and San Rivers as far as the Dnieper. A great battle along this front may even be in the making and in any event it cannot be long postponed.

Vienna reports that the Austrian offensive continues successful north and south of Trazemal, and that Jurek, an important fortress taken by the Russians several weeks ago, has been evacuated by the Austrians. A dispatch received here from Nish Serbia relates that acting on the instructions of the German general staff, Austria has concentrated on the banks of the Drina the greatest army yet seen against Serbia in a final and supreme effort to crush that country. Force skirmishes already have been reported in the outposts and a big battle is said to be imminent.

Nearer home news of military operations is even more meagre than in the eastern arena. Stithburn fighting is reported at (name deleted by censor) and it is claimed that all the efforts of General Von Kluck to smash the allies' left have been repulsed.

In the Baltic the German fleet is showing unusual activity. Submarines or a torpedo boat, according to the Berlin announcement, recently sank a Russian cruiser at a point distant two days steaming from their base and a great German squadron flying the flag of Prince Herwig of Prussia is today reported cruising about the Aland Islands.

RED CROSS NURSES ARE KILLED BY AN EXPLODING SHELL

Paris, Oct. 14.—(9:10 a.m.)—News was received in Paris today of the death of General Remondy, commander of the third brigade of French colonial infantry. The general was killed while leading his brigade against the enemy.

Two English nurses have met their death on the field of battle. The women were killed by one exploding shell while there were on duty in a field hospital behind the center of the allied armies.

LEGISLATURE HAS BUSY HOUR; MUCH WORK COMPLETED

Two Canada Central and One
Dunvegan Railway Bills
Given First Readings

PROVISIONS ARE MADE
TO BORROW $3,000,000
Petitions on Women's Suffrage and Prohibition Referred to Committee

The members of the legislature have so far proved as good as their word and on Tuesday gave a first-class exhibition of how to get through a lot of business, without unnecessary opposition, in a short time.

The sitting began at four o'clock and over an hour later, when an adjournment was made to 2:30 Wednesday. In that 45 minutes, or thereabouts, many questions were asked and expeditiously answered, reports tabled, no less than 25 private bills were given second readings and several important government bills introduced. These are scheduled to receive third readings on Thursday.

Provincial Treasurer, Mitchell introduced Bill to raise $3,000,000 on the general revenue fund of the province, for a term of 50 years, the rate of interest not to exceed six per cent. The bill explains that the money is "for the covering of any debt of the province on open account, and for the floating indebtedness of the province, for the carrying on of public works authorized by the legislature, and for the satisfaction or discharge of any obligation of the province."

Most of the time was taken up yesterday by the railway legislation brought down by Premier Sifton. There were three bills, one guaranteeing at $20,000 a mile, the bonds of a branch of the Canadian Central, C. P. & N. C. from the main line of the Dunvegan line to Grouard, a distance of about 14 miles. A. Patterson, conservative member for Peace River, made his maiden speech in the house in connection with this legislation, and concluded with the promise that the line was needed.

A second railway bill also has reference to the Canadian Central, and provides for the paying over to the company, out of the proceeds of the sale or disposition of the railway, a sum not exceeding 80 per cent of the cost of the road, upon the completion of the line. The bill also provides for the provincial engineer. The line already authorized by way of the ordinary way, but as the contractors are going ahead steadily with the work on the line is needed by the country and will upon the late Peace River country, it was thought wise to take this step.

In Federal Charter.
In answer to a question by T. M. Tweedie, member for Peace River, as to why the main line of the Dunvegan did not pass through Grouard, Premier Sifton said that the road was being built under a dominion charter and the federal minister of railways had authorized it to be built 14 miles south.

Another act was brought down to guarantee the E. D. and B. C. bonds for another 51 miles, which will bring it to the R. C. boundary. All these will come up in the house Thursday.

The petitions regarding women's suffrage and prohibition were referred to a committee of three—Smith, Glen and Dewing.

Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education, got first reading on a bill to add certain school districts in the southern districts which were hit by dryness this year.

CARIBOO SHERIFF IN CITY TO MEET SISTER COMING FROM SCOTLAND

E. S. Peters, sheriff of Cariboo district, B.C., is in the city on his way to his home in South Fort George. His sister, who is on her way from Scotland, will meet him in Edmonton on October 14, and accompany him to his home, where she will spend the winter.

For some time his sister has been residing on the island of Trinidad.

Mr. Peters had just returned from Clinton, B.C., where he was attending the sitting of the court. He is the son of the late Captain J. S. & P. Peters, a Royal Naval service, and is a nephew of the late Dr. James Keith Anderson, who was for a great number of years officer of health for the borough of Arbroath, Scotland.

Mr. Peters is an old timer in western Canada, having been agent for the Hudson's Bay Company in northern B.C. for over 25 years.

Mr. Peters and his sister will be guests at the Cecil hotel while in the city.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded, or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But lowering of home is money and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking for any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Weybe's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is as simple as dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known, down-to-earth druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. It is so simple that it disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant.

STATE OF PANIC SAID TO REIGN IN OSTEND

Estimated That Over 100,000
Belgians Have Already Arrived in England.

London, Oct. 14.—Belgian refugees are arriving here in such increasingly large numbers that the war relief committee is unable to provide accommodations for them. Herbert Louis, Belgian president of the war relief board, yesterday issued an appeal asking that committees be formed in various parts of the country to assist in obtaining food and shelter for the strangers and to help find homes in which they may be lodged.

Mr. Samuel stated that 8,000 refugees already have been distributed among homes in different parts of the country. The government has provided a refuge at Alexandra palace, which accommodates 100 persons, and a smaller place where 4,000 more have been given quarters. Arrangements were made yesterday for lodging a large number of the refugees in the Earl's court exhibition buildings, but it is anticipated that the capacity of these buildings will be speedily exhausted.

So great is the demand for passage on steamers from Ostend that these boats arriving at Palestine carry no baggage. As soon as they discharge their human freight the steamers return to Ostend, where thousands of Belgian refugees were clustering for transportation to England. The statements of some of those who succeeded in getting away indicate that a state of panic exists at Ostend, where crowds of fugitives continue to flock into the city, spreading exaggerated reports regarding the proximity of the German pursuers.

Among yesterday's arrivals at Folkestone and Dover were several hundred Belgian soldiers. It is likely that their number will be considerably increased in the course of the next few days. They are being looked after by the relief committee for wounded allies and are being sent in small bodies to different provincial cities and towns where arrangements have been made for their hospital accommodation.

It is estimated that nearly 100,000 Belgian refugees have already landed on these shores. It is feared that the stream of fugitives will increase in volume as the German occupation of Belgium becomes more complete.

COMMANDER OF GOEBEN WILL BECOME HEAD OF THE TURKISH FLEET

Rome, Oct. 14.—A report received here from Constantinople says that the commander of the former German cruiser Goeben will become head of the Turkish fleet and aims to attack the Russian fleet for mastery in the Black sea and to threaten the Russian coast. The Goeben now flies the Turkish flag and all her officers and crew are said to be Germans.

PROMPT ACTION BY BOTH HAVING AN EXCELLENT EFFECT

Maritz Ultimatum Mentioning
Other Generals Does Not Incriminate Them.

FREE STATE PRESIDENT
THINKS LEADER IS MAD

Does Not Think Herzog, Beyers and DeWet Approves of What Maritz Did.

London, Oct. 14.—The Morning Post's Capetown correspondent sends the following:

"Maritz ultimatum containing reference to Generals Hertog, Beyers and Dewit, does not necessarily mean that these men are implicated in the plot. It may have been an attempt to drag them in. General Beyers alone is generally mistrusted."

"The general indications are that the Maritz revolt and the prompt action of the government are producing a fresh wave of enthusiasm for General Botha personally, and for his policy. In view of the mischievous influence of certain Hertogist preachers there is special reason for gratification in a letter from Rev. J. Steyer, moderator of the Dutch reform church, who speaks with enthusiastic approval of the attitude of General Botha and the government and declares that the action of Beyers is incomprehensible."

"Belgian president of the senate and ex-president of the Free State interviewed by the Cape Times, said: 'Maritz must be treated as a madman. The view that Generals Hertog, Beyers, Kemp and Miller were not in the field, but that Maritz desired to involve them. Heitold added: 'I know all sides personally, some of them intimately. I regret for a moment believe any one of them either knew Maritz intention or would approve what he has done.'"

"Hopes are entertained for the success of the appeal of leading Cape Town Afrikaners to ex-President Botha. It says that Maritz desired to involve them. Heitold added: 'I know all sides personally, some of them intimately. I regret for a moment believe any one of them either knew Maritz intention or would approve what he has done.'"

GERMAN PLAN HAS BEEN FRUSTRATED

Attempt to Deliver Crushing
Blow on Allies' Left Failed.

TEUTONS OCCUPY YPRES
Their Position, However, Untenable with Heavy Reinforcements.

London, Oct. 14.—(4:18 a.m.)—In a despatch dated Monday the Daily Mail's correspondent in northern France says:

"The great German plan to hold the department of Pas-de-Calais and deliver a crushing blow to the allies' left wing has failed thus far. Yesterday and Saturday our armies drove the enemy off further back."

"The main army, which extended from Tureco to Arras, and was forced from its position last Tuesday, has again met with heavy defeat and been beaten back northward."

"The battle which has been raging at intervals near Arras since last Tuesday, has again met with heavy defeat and been beaten back northward."

"Ypres was occupied Wednesday afternoon by a moderate detachment of German cavalry and infantry, but they have not yet evacuated it, they must do so in the next few hours, as their position is untenable without very large reinforcements, and these, if they exist, cannot reach them now."

Schreiber, Oct. 14.—F. R. Riley, a boy who went hunting with a companion named McCarty Thursday night, is still missing, and 100 men are searching for him.

As a result of cabinet meetings and conferences between the leaders of the various Portuguese parties and the president of the republic, the correspondent continues, it has been resolved to convocate conscript October 18 in order to pass a vote for the mobilization of Portugal's troops.

BIG BATTLE COMMENCES ALONG LINE FROM SAN TO THE RIVER VISTULA

Washington, Oct. 14.—Colonel Golevski, military attaché of the Russian embassy here, received today the following official despatch from Petrograd:

"A battle has begun on a line extending from the country around Warsaw along the river Vistula and San to Przemyel and farther to the south to the river Dniester."

"In east Prussia the situation remains unchanged."

Number in Turkish Army.
Rome, Oct. 14.—According to advices received here the German officers at Constantinople estimate the Turkish army at 800,000 men. This estimate made here on figures from reliable sources place the number at between 600,000 and 700,000.

Retiring from Business

The citizens of Edmonton have more than demonstrated their confidence in the Acme store in the past few days. From the day we announced the fact that Revillon Freres would retire from the retail business and that the prices on our merchandise would be lowered and in some cases cut in half, our store has been crowded with anxious buyers, so crowded in fact that our store proved to be much too small at times to accommodate those who would help us unload this mammoth stock. We wish to thank the public generally, for their liberal response, and ask all who possibly can to come in the mornings that we may give them the best attention possible.

GERMAN CULTURE IN FREE COMPETITION.

The Hohenzollerns have encompassed the death of probably half a million men and the end is not yet by many hundreds of thousands. Their object in launching this tidal wave of blood has been to satisfy an egotistical ambition to dominate the destiny of millions who do not now recognize their claims to divine authority nor their infallibility as rulers. To fasten this domination they propose to put "Germany over all," substituting German institutions and German "culture" for the institutions and culture of the countries which they propose to conquer.

But the test of experience shows that where German institutions and German culture come into peaceful contact with institutions and culture of the countries to which Germans migrate, Germany's ideals and systems languish and invariably lapse. This outcome is arrived at by Germans subscribing to the manners and customs of the countries to which they migrate.

No better illustration of this than United States can be had at the present time. Germany claims that 30 per cent. of the population of United States is Teutonic. Yet the systems, language, ideals and ambitions of United States are of a nature which had their original expression in the country which United States fought to the death in order to make herself independent. Germany had United States enmity toward Britain as a basis upon which to work, and one out of every three or four of the population as a fulcrum. Yet the Germanic influence has been virtually swallowed up. Germans themselves have discovered in the systems of the country to which they came in such enormous numbers something so superior to their own that their own people became almost instantly converted to these and hasten to take fullest advantage thereof. The Kaiser sees his own people go abroad and merge their Germanism into the superior systems of democracies.

This is the thing which sends the Hohenzollerns on the war path. The German system of civilization is a forced growth even in their own country. Transplanted, it will not survive. The only chance of placing Germany over all is by extending the boundary lines and by saddling the acquired territory with the militarist despotism with the Kaiser at the top. In the insane belief that he can accomplish this, the Kaiser does not hesitate to send a million men to their death and to wreck a continent.

FINISH OF THE WAR STILL IN THE DISTANT FUTURE

The military critics who thought this was going to be a short war will have to revise their estimates. The war has now been in progress since the first week in August and a comprehensive glance at the situation shows that it is only now getting well under way. The allies are still pouring recruits into the line that stretches from the Vosges to the North Sea. The Russian millions have not yet come up in anything like the numbers that will be engaged within another month or six weeks. The navies have not yet been engaged in more than mere incidents. And, most significant of all, Kitchener is going ahead with his arrangements upon a basis that presupposes months and possibly years of war, giving recruits 26 weeks of training, and setting the date for the launching of his next great expeditionary force at some time after Christmas.

Viewed in retrospect, the reader of history, for whose benefit the momentous events of decades and centuries are crowded into pages, loses count of the fact that the consummation of the things recorded in a paragraph may have exhausted years of time. The French revolution was under way three years before Napoleon came into the calcium's glare. It was not until twenty years later that the final written to the armies seem cumbersome. But it is a matter of fact, the march of events in Europe has been more rapid than anything of a like nature heretofore recorded and upon a more tremendous scale. Into each day of the few brief weeks of war there have been crowded battles of greater magnitude than Waterloo; encounters more sanguinary than Gettysburg have gone almost unrecorded. Civilization is burning up its assets in men and wealth more rapidly than ever before; but modern civilization has much more to burn up. Civilization and warfare are not synonymous. But civilization permits nations to call into warfare the most extreme limit of their durability; to move their last man to the front and to call out their last resource. For this reason, the present war, although greatest in magnitude, promises to become the most exhausting and the longest because there is more to exhaust. With each of the involved nations in possession of untold wealth still to be drawn upon and millions of men still to be called to arms, the finish is still a long, long distance in the future.

To readers who have accommodated themselves to a transmission of intelligence which normally gives the smallest detail of news immediate record on the other side of the globe, the belated and fragmentary reports which are permitted to click past the censor make the movements of armies seem cumbersome. But it is a matter of fact, the march of events in Europe has been more rapid than anything of a like nature heretofore recorded and upon a more tremendous scale. Into each day of the few brief weeks of war there have been crowded battles of greater magnitude than Waterloo; encounters more sanguinary than Gettysburg have gone almost unrecorded. CONFISCATE BALANCES FOR GERMAN GOODS

In this proposal to abjure German goods there is room for a little discrimination, lest the injury be inflicted upon our own people.

Previous to the war, there was a legitimate trade with Germany and Austria. Merchants having in stock German goods which antedated the war made the purchases with no idea that the money remitted would be used against Canada or Britain. These goods—or at least such of them as have been paid for—are no longer Germany's goods, but Canadians. To refuse to buy them would be to visit an unmerited hardship upon Canadians who have broken no law, even in sentiment. It is difficult to understand how any large volume of German goods could have come to Canada since the outbreak of the war, Britain having control of the seas. But if there is any danger of German goods still coming to the Canadian money paid for them being subsequently used to shoot Canadians, the simplest measure of self-defense would be to place an embargo against them. As a retaliation against Germany, which seized foreign balances, Canada should confiscate whatever unpaid balances there are still owing Germans for goods shipped to Canadian houses either previous or subsequent to the outbreak of war. The amounts so confiscated might be found sufficient to make a very presentable sum to be used toward the relief of what hardship has been caused by the Made-in-Germany war.

A SUSTAINING PROP TO ENDURANCE

Such endurance and valor as is being shown on the battle line at Aisne has never been seen before in any field of conflict, nor could it have been possible in any previous war.

In this war, for the first time, men engaged, besides being soldiers, subject to the orders of the directing mind, are, to a degree unappreciated, idealists. Quite possibly, by hundreds of thousands of those fighting, the absolute picture of the ideal could not be put into words. Yet nevertheless it is there, and it is the feeling that they are fighting for an ideal or principle rather than for the conquest of a territory or the chance to be in the sack of a city that distinguishes the civilized man in warfare from the savage, and sustains the soldier of civilization to a degree of endurance impossible in the savage. Ultimately the ideal will take form, just as all ideals emerge in definiteness out of the world's epochs. When that day arrives, all will know what this war is all about.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that most forms of uric acid which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and swollen, then you suffer with a full misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy full of sediment, if channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, and it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink.

BIG SURPRISE FOR ENGLAND SAY MANY KIEL DESPATCHES

Canal Closed and Germans Experimenting With Heavy Guns on Boats.

London, Oct. 14.—A despatch from Copenhagen to the Adly News says: "What is the big surprise the Germans have for England, which they repeatedly talk about? Copenhagen is full of rumors, purporting to come from German officers, in private letters and despatches. The Kiel canal is again closed to neutral ships and the 'big surprise' rumors are received by pretty influential and reliable persons in private despatches from Kiel, although it is difficult to understand how they have passed the censor."

"The reports say that the Germans are experimenting with new heavy guns fired on a dreadnought, and that the canal is closed for the purpose of conducting firing practice."

HALE TELLS HOW ENGLAND TREATS WAR PRISONERS

Comforts for Captives, He Says, Almost Amount to Luxury.

HAVE LITTLE WORK TO DO: GIVEN THE BEST OF FOOD

Officers in Camp Are Allowed a Servant and Given Half Pay.

London, Oct. 14.—The German treatment by the British of German prisoners of war formed the basis of a interview given by Chandler Hale yesterday on his return from a tour of inspection of the three British detention camps. Mr. Hale, who was formerly United States assistant secretary of state has charge of American embassies in Austria and Hungary. He is the first American permitted to visit the enclosure in which Great Britain's hospitality is extended to enemy aliens. Altogether he saw more than 4,000 prisoners, of whom less than 1,000 had been combatants, but these figures did not represent only a small per centage of the whole number incarcerated by the authorities. The comforts provided for captives according to Mr. Hale amounted in most cases almost to luxury particular where officer prisoners were concerned. He said: "The feature of the tour which I should like to emphasize is that not a single complaint of any kind was made to me by any prisoner. All willingly conceded how delightful they were treated and I must confess to myself about it because I had the fullest opportunity of conversing with them beyond earshot of their captors."

German Are Tackled.
 "Another curious thing was that not one asked me about the war, nor was I asked to take part in it. I should have had to decline to answer. I was informed, incidentally, that officer prisoners had heard of the fall of Antwerp, and that efforts were being made to know how the news had leaked through to them."

"It is intensely interesting to note the difference between German and Austro-Hungarian prisoners. The latter take imprisonment light heartedly, but the Germans were inclined to be cantankerous and to grumble loudly against fate."

The first camp that Mr. Hale inspected was an open air enclosure where 12 prisoners sharing each tent. The tents had wooden floors and each occupant of a tent had two blankets and drew rations equivalent to a British soldier, except that he got no meat and no bread. Mr. Hale said that each tent elected a captain, and each camp had a chief captain, empowered to enforce discipline, select cooks, etc.

Do Little Work.
 Practically the only work the prisoners do is chop wood, wash clothes and cook food. Their chief pastime was taking shower baths, and there is an unlimited supply of soap and water.

The only remark touching on the war made to Mr. Hale was a statement by a private of a German guard regiment, who said: "I was captured within 20 miles of Paris."

"Among the Austrians were naval officers, who had been captured while trying to return home from South America. These officers had servants selected from non-indigent prisoners to attend to their wants. They have a regular mess, choosing their own food subject to the approval of the British authorities. They draw half money pay according to rank and they are permitted to receive money sent them through American embassy channels," said Mr. Hale.

"Wine or any other refreshments may be purchased by these officers, although in other camps alcoholic drinks are forbidden. Each officer has generally a room to himself and is liberally supplied with clothes. They insist on wearing their own uniforms. They can play games, have ample space for exercise, plenty of books, and altogether live in conditions closely approaching luxury."

AUSTRIANS CLAIM LARGE NUMBER OF RUSSIANS CAUGHT

Rapid Advance of Austro-Hungarian Troops Responsible for Relief Przemyśl.

The Hague, Oct. 14.—(8:20 a.m.)—The Austrian legation here has issued the following official communication: "The rapid advance of the Austro-Hungarian troops along the river San resulted on October 11 in the entire withdrawal of the Russian investing force from Przemyśl, which was immediately occupied by Austrian relief troops."

The retreating Russians everywhere were strongly attacked. An attempt on their part to cross the river near Sienawa and Losajsk gave the Austro-Hungarian troops an opportunity to take a large number of prisoners. These as yet have not been counted."

Take All Funds.
 Bordeaux, Oct. 14.—M. Briand, the minister of justice, has instructed all the district attorneys in France to seek out and sequester all goods and funds belonging to German and Austrian firms.

FARMERS' ELEVATORS ARE PROVING GREAT BOON TO ALBERTA AGRICULTURISTS

On the walls of the office of J. D. Hunt, deputy attorney general in the Alberta provincial buildings, are large maps of the province showing the exact locality of 78 elevators of the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator company, sheriff's offices and offices of the justice of the peace.

On Wednesday, in Calgary, no less than 400 farmers from all parts of the province, representing the several thousands stock-holders of the 78 subsidiary companies will gather at the existence of these farmers' elevators in Alberta.

The farmers have had a good year with their elevators. At the close of actions have had the tendency to keep up and steady the price of grain, while the stored in the price of grain has been reduced very materially.

The livestock department of the Farmers' Elevator company, which was organized about a year ago, has done a thriving business, amounting in the aggregate to a very handsome sum. The officials decline to give out figures until such time as they are presented at the meeting on Wednesday. This department is in charge of E. Carwell, last season there were 52 elevators. During the present season, 26 new companies have been organized, and as many elevators built, which makes a total of 78 community elevators under the jurisdiction of the farmers. The existence of the co-operative company has been justified, aside from the profits made, by the fact that the franchise-president of the U. F. A., and formerly of Red Deer, W. J. Treiglin, president of the Alberta Co-operative Elevator company, will preside at the Wednesday meeting, and a number of farmers from the Edmonton district will attend.

Treat Priests as Officers.
 London, Oct. 14.—The German emperor says a Berlin despatch to Reuters has approved the suggestion of the Archbishop of Cologne to treat all captured French priests as officers, though they be serving as privates.

What the Theater Press Agents Say

BARGAIN PRICES FOR "MRS. WIGGS."
Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, a dramatization of Alice Hegan Rice's famous Shalton romance is the Thanksgiving offering of "The Players" at the Empire theatre. No more appropriate selection could have been made for such an occasion, as the homely philosophy and ready wit of Mrs. Wiggs seems very suitable when everybody is seeking to make merry.
This famous play will give the members of the company the best opportunity yet afforded them for character work, as practically all the parts in the play are character types. Miss Frances Brandt will play Mrs. Wiggs, a part in which she has already won laurels in other cities.
Miss Beattie MacAllister, as Miss Maxy, Miss Edith Cooper, as Levey Mary, and Miss Florence T. Hamilton, as one of the gossiping neighbors, will all be at home in their respective roles. Guy Harrington will fill the principal male role of Stubbins.
Bargain prices will prevail during this engagement, 40¢ of the better seats being set aside at 50c, to give every one an opportunity of seeing this masterpiece.
At the special matinee on Saturday the children will be admitted for 10c, as it is felt that the healthful amusement provided should attract the younger generation, who will especially appreciate the characters in "Mrs. Wiggs."
As this is the last appearance of "The Players" for some time, it is to be hoped that the capacity audiences will greet them at every performance.

THE VERSATILES ARE COMING TO THE EMPIRE.
P. Stuart-Whyte's all star English musical comedy company, "The Versatiles," will be offering at the Empire theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 15, 20, 21.
This clever aggregation of London comedians and comedienne made a decided hit at the Empire two seasons ago, and should more than repeat the success this season, especially as they are the only musical attraction that will tour Canada before the holidays.
The bill for Monday and Wednesday evenings will be a fanciful musical fantasy of the "Gypsy Kingdom," entitled "Scottie in Japan."
Billy Oswald, that robust Scotch comedian, will be the featured member of the cast.
On Tuesday evening and Wednesday matinee the mile-a-minute musical melange, "The Canadian Express," will be given.
Each of these offerings contains 21 song hits, including the Pierrot first pair, which is a pot-pourri of popular songs and dances.
In the company are Miss Zara Clinton, Harry Hayland, William Conley, Billie Menzies, Frank Maxwell, Kitty Clifford, Olive Berry and other well-known London favorites.

MASTERY PRESENTATION BY HOWE AT LYCEUM.

There have been many actors at the Lyceum theatre who have been masters of make-up, but it is doubtful if any Indian in local staidland has been so realistically presented as the actor in "Black Feather" of Walla Hove. In "Life's Shop Window" this week, not one detail of make-up has been neglected, and Mr. Howe makes a fine figure in the recitals of the profane, eccentric, though altogether likable Indian, who, in his crude, barbarous manner, tries to set a disrupted household right. How he helps to do it is one of the best features of the play.

"Life's Shop Window" will appeal to most lovers of melodrama for it presents the old problem of the woman who is placed on an Arizona ranch with a husband who is too busy to give her any attention. When the real awakening of the husband comes, he is almost too late to make amends. Fortunately, both husband and wife have friends who help to show them the right path and spare them from a false step.

K. AND E. FILMS NEAREST TO PERFECT.

The Empire theatre gives to the motion picture lovers of the city another genuine treat as the bill for Wednesday and Thursday, "The Klaw and Erlanger picture production," "Men and Women," presented in three parts, reads the program. The Klaw and Erlanger pictures are thorough in production, and as to care and attention to every detail in the film, even to the minutest point, strength of subjects developed, unexcelled direction and acting, there have probably been no films shown, at least in Edmonton, that can come up to them. They are the highest point reached as a class, and the Empire can find proud in being the theatre that exhibits these sterling productions. The same good sources and experience that has made the name of Klaw and Erlanger the master of the theatrical world, are making their motion pictures take a same rank.
"Men and Women," the picture that will be shown for Wednesday and Thursday, is an artistic melodrama of modern American life. It is clean, wholesome, and human, and has the quality that gathers in all the human faculties of attention. The plot is clear, logical and effectively constructed. It treats such a theme that has its appeal to every eye and interest, and is a double love story of novel, yet powerful interest.

DRAMA AND COMEDY AT BIJOU THEATRE

The program at the Bijou can be called one trying the most successful subjects for motion picture presentation, for there appears on the bill for Wednesday and Thursday three types of pictures, each a classic representative of the respective kind of photoplay subjects that have appealed greatest with the largest array of theatergoers—the moving picture fan.
"Children of the West" is a three reel special production, produced by one of the largest exclusive feature film manufacturers in the world. The quality of this film will take it easily far above the picture of the type, and movies of this nature have without a doubt the biggest following of any yet seen. But it is truly a fine example of the western motion picture with a strong thread of story and sentiment and abounding in many spectacular and thrilling scenes. It should appeal and interest much.

The other drama is entitled "The Coward and the Man," and visualizes an altogether different subject. Told in this picture is the story of a man who, in the face of a wide field open before him to the future, look up only to those of the past. We can all the more easily forget the past, and turning our eyes to the future, look up only to those of the past. There is a wide field open before you in the western provinces, and I would earnestly entreat you to review the situation carefully, to study the changes that have taken place during the years of your absence, to consider the new wants and requirements of that last year.

section especially, and to be prepared and ready to take the field at the proper time.
"I am well aware that during the days of that administration you did not always see eye to eye with me, and that in fact you took strong exception to some of our measures. The questions therein involved are now out of the way. We can all the more easily forget the past, and turning our eyes to the future, look up only to those of the past. There is a wide field open before you in the western provinces, and I would earnestly entreat you to review the situation carefully, to study the changes that have taken place during the years of your absence, to consider the new wants and requirements of that last year.

LAURIER GLAD TO HAVE JOE MARTIN IN FIGHTING LINE

Liberal Chieftain Writes Letter to St. Pancras Member, With Invitation.

The Liberal party, at least the aggressive and progressive portions of it throughout Canada, will not doubt be glad to hear that Joseph Martin, member of the British commons for St. Pancras East, London, will again be in the front of the battle line when the next dominion election campaign comes round.

A short time ago the press wires were hot with messages from the various cities at which "Fighting Joe" stopped on his west-bound transcontinental trip, stating that he would again interest himself in Canadian politics. It was stated that he had had a conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at which the Liberal chieftain had invited Mr. Martin to take part, when the time comes, in the interests of liberalism.

It now turns out that Sir Wilfrid has written the picturesque political fighter a letter, formally extending the invitation. The letter follows:
Ottawa, Oct. 2, 1914.
"My dear Martin:
"Since you have returned to the land of your birth, you cannot remain indifferent to the political situation of this land.
"At present all our problems must give way before the supreme consideration of the war in which we are engaged. Our first duty is to help, as far as in our power may be, Great Britain in the herculean task which she has assumed.
"But the problems of our situation are only dormant. Scotch or other matters will rise again for imperative solution. It will then be the mission of the imperial party to endeavor to secure a wise economic policy, on the lines of free trade, expansion of commerce, and the lighting of the industrial lamp which is summing classes, to bring back that long

F. Stuart-Whyte's London organization, which comes to the Empire theatre Monday next.

SPORTS

RECORD OF BOSTON BRAVES
BRIGHT MARK IN BASEBALL

Not Likely to Be Soon Surpassed—Each Member of Winning Team Will Receive $2,813.10 as His Share of Proceeds—Losers Get 2,031.68 Apiece.

Boston, Oct. 14.—By defeating the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday afternoon in the fourth and last game of the series, the Boston Braves accomplished something no other ball team has done in the history of baseball, winning the world's title in four straight games. It was Connie Mack's ardent desire to perform such a feat but such a reliable, wonderful machine were merely the instruments to allow for the triumph of others.

The rise of the Braves this season was the most sensational in all baseball chronicles. In the middle of July they were hopeless tailenders in the National league and apparently with little hope of rising from their lowly position. In fact it was customary to refer to them as the "lowly Braves," the team and they started to win games and kept on winning until in September they touched the high mark in the league.

Even then there was a general belief that they have no chance against the Athletics when they met in the championship series. The dope all favored the Athletics and betting odds of 2 to 1 were offered with no takers to speak of. But the Braves demonstrated that the dopers for once has misread, by not only winning the series but accomplishing the unheard of feat of taking it in a row of four.

The Athletics have no allies to offer for their defeat. They are god sports and know when they are fairly beaten. They fought doggedly but could not get going in the old style which made them famous in the series of the past. The pitchers were not working very well, the hitting fell off and the great machine cracked. They could not stand anything for they had lost their punch.

Owing to the shortness of the series the club owners and National Commission divide a smaller amount of money than in any world's series since 1910. The winners, the Boston players, received 50 per cent. of $121,909.94, or $51,484.97, while the Athletics, as losers, profit to the extent of $45,759.93.

Of the Boston club, 26 players are eligible to share in the prize money, giving each man $2,813.10, should the money be divided evenly. On the Athletics, 24 players are entitled to divide the losers' end, which would give each Macdonald $2,031.68 on a share and share alike basis.

The players of neither club have as yet notified the National Commission just how the money will be divided. The Braves receive less money than the Athletics for their lot since the season of 1910. Each of the four umpires received $1,000, the money coming from the National Commission's per cent. of the profits.

The world's series of 1914 was the tenth between the pennant winners of the two major leagues, since the National Commission, the highest court of baseball, took charge of the annual autumn series in 1914. Yesterday's victory of the Braves brings about a tie for inter-league since National and American league have now won five championships apiece.

The American league victories and the clubs that won them are as follows:

1906—Chicago White Sox.
1907—Philadelphia Athletics.
1908—Philadelphia Athletics.
1912—Boston Red Sox.
1915—Philadelphia Athletics.

The National league triumphs were won:

1905—New York Giants.
1907—Chicago Cubs.
1909—Pittsburgh Pirates.
1914—Boston Braves.

Connie Mack, the Athletics' leader, is the only manager who to date has won three world's championships, and he appears to have stumbled over the mystic fourth last as Managers McGraw, Johnson, Chance and Mack have all failed to win four league pennants in a row.

ARRANGING FOR AMERICAN CITIES
TO ENTER HOCKEY

New York and Boston Will Play Great Winter Game This Season.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Headquarters of the promoters of the new professional hockey league, in which it is hoped to include clubs from New York and Boston and two Canadian clubs, announced yesterday that the Boston National hockey management now contemplates placing a hockey team in the new league. Hockey is popular in Boston, and a professional team here would be almost sure to pay.

On the other hand, a prominent N. H. A. official is reported to have said today that any New York team entering a professional hockey league this morning would be disappointed with the N. H. A. and not the proposed new organization. Any team previously mentioned as seeking a berth with new league has been disappointed with the N. H. A. with the object of securing a franchise, the official said. It was stated that a New York team was a practical certainty in the National Association this winter but it would not be learned whether their club would be taken in to allow a uniform schedule. If only a New York team were admitted, it would make the N. H. A. a seven club league.

TOBACCO, PIPE AND SHAVE
STARTED 2 HISTORIC WARS

Another Was Caused by a Broken Teapot, While Still Another Resulted From the Theft of a Petticoat.

Opinions may differ as to whether the dispute which led to the present conflagration in Europe were sufficient to justify the loss of blood and treasure which will be expended, but it is certain that many great wars in history have resulted from much more trivial causes. The dogs of war have been let loose and continents deluged with blood frequently as the result of amazingly insignificant incidents.

A man may start an incipient riot in his own home by appearing after having worn a luxurious hirsute shag for years, but ordinarily the trouble does not go beyond his own door. Louis VII. of France was slain by a French knight, a vassal of the king, who had been plundered by two nations—France and England—into intermittent warfare which lasted 200 years.

According to the story, the Archbishop of Rouen persuaded the king to remove his shag, in common with his subjects. The act led to so much friction with the queen that at last Louis divorced her, to become a few months later the wife of Henry II. of England. From this marriage centuries of bloodshed may be said to have followed.

In an iron race in the town of the cathedral in Modena, Italy, a bucket of a terrible war may be seen today. Soldiers of Modena in a mischievous mood stole the bucket from a public well in Bologna and refused to return it. The states were rivals and were jealous of each other, and fights between soldiers of the two followed. This spark kindled a fire of war which devastated a large part of Europe and led to the imprisonment for life of the king of Sardinia, son of the German Emperor.

Broken Teapot Starts War.

A broken teapot started a war in China 250 years ago which cost half a million lives. The teapot was the cherished possession of a dignitary high in favor with the Emperor. When travelling through a lawless province in the northwest of China some of his retinue who had fallen behind the main body were intercepted by a band of robbers, and among the spoils the teapot was found and contemptuously thrown on the ground and broken.

The mandarin reported his loss to the emperor, a force of soldiers was sent out, and a long and terrible war ensued. Lord Palmerston once said that only three men had ever known the exact nature of the troubles in Schleswig-Holstein which led to two great wars. Two of them had died before the wars broke out, and he, the third of the trinity, had completely forgotten what it was all about.

His majesty's highness, Count Bismarck, then Prussia's foreign minister, of a telegram sent Prussia and France flying at each other's throat in 1870. The French ambassador went to Ems, where Emperor William I. then was, to ask him not to approve the ambition of Prince Leopold to become the king of Spain. The king refused to give definite answer, but Prince Anthony of Hohenzollern withdrew his son's candidacy. A report of the conference was submitted to Count Bismarck, with authorization to publish it. Bismarck altered the text, and in the changed form gave it to the newspapers and through them to France. As Bismarck wrote it the report was unfavorable to France, and the international war with all its horrors followed. Years later Bismarck confessed the forgery.

Over a Glass of Water.

The war of the Spanish succession, in which the great Duke of Marlborough played a brilliant part, was said to be the outcome of a glass of water at a ball at the Tuilleries in Paris. One of the court ladies had spilled a drop of water on the dress of the hearing of the British and Spanish ambassadors, who hastened to get it for her. Returning with a tumbler, they found the fair bird had fallen and was dancing with a French statesman. The English diplomat accidentally, it is presumed, brushed against the Spaniard and upset the glass he was carrying. This ridiculous incident inflamed the jealousies of the nations and turned the balance in favor of war.

The Seven Years War was largely due, according to his own confession, to the vanity of Frederick the Great in wanting to see his name figure largely in the gazettes.

The Sepoys believed that cartridges served out to them were greased with the fat of animals unclean alike to Hindus and Mohammedans, and the Indian Mutiny was precipitated.

The Russo-Turkish war was said to have been started by the hammer with which a Hungarian blacksmith killed a tax collector who had insulted his daughter.

The stealing of a Castile lady's lace petticoat by a Moor led to many years of fierce warfare between the Spaniards and the Moors. The emptying of a bucket of a Milanese gave rise to an international war in Italy. Borrowing a tobacco pipe and fall-tractions of snails and vipers as food started fifty years of fighting between two nations. It kindled a civil war. A dispute as to the relative national races in Persia and Afghanistan which lasted for years and among the Milan and Pisa.

HANDS SURPRISE TO BILLY RYLE

King Wins Billiard Game 50 to 28—Ryle and Young Play Tonight.

Arthur King proved a terror to Billy Ryle in the opening game of the challenge series of billiard games being held in the Empire billiard hall, last night. King winning hardly, 50 to 28. The local expert conceded King 10 points, but on this occasion they were not needed, as the challenger had a substantial margin without them.

King started the game by scoring two points, and he kept continually counting until he reached his total, ending up with a run of three. He made bank shots with ease, and Ryle seemed unable to leave the balls safe.

The second game will be played tonight when Dr. Young meets Ryle. The game is called for eight o'clock and admission is free. Last night's scores: King, 50; high runs, 2, 3. Ryle, 28; high runs, 2, 3.

WAR CORRESPONDENT GIVES THRILLING DESCRIPTION OF GERMAN RAID INTO FRANCE

(Special War Correspondence.)
Vareilles, France, Oct. 6.—"La gauche," "La gauche!" called the old French woman to me from the upstairs window of her little pink villa that stood in its green little garden on the white ribbon road to Trilport, and her long, bony finger beckoned a passage over miles and miles of cabbage fields that lay flat as a griddle, hissing in the overpouring sun.

"La gauche" (to the left?) I questioned again, for at the far end of these hot stich cabbage fields I saw only a heavy forest swimming in the heat.

"Out! Out!" she cried, resorting to my monosyllabic French as if to make me comprehend.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist
As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, which causes all the pain and difficulty is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated about past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—I could not count them.

I could not with the first shock, even differentiate them—French or English or German.
For they were just people to me. Clean, beautiful human beings—men and boys—young as I or younger—with most of life still to unfold before them and now marred and battered and bruised and cut into one reeking mass of carrion!

And this was only the very fringe of horror—this cabbage field!

I knew that, far, farther on, I could now see the dead were lying—nearly as many as the turkeys cabbage heads, but in ghastly little heaps where they had fallen in groups of two and three and four, fallen, perhaps, without time even to say "good-bye" into each other's ears. And in the woods beyond there I knew I should see the full price of war!

I had a little bottle of "carrion" in my pocket. Living on "grass-palm" and raw onions produces indigestion that only carrion can alleviate, and I poured some of the balmy fluid on my handkerchief. With the cool, pungent cloth pressed tight against my nostrils, I stumbled on through the path of victory.

The horror grew.
It became more involved as I plunged through ring after ring of the battlefield, on toward its very heart.

There were more bodies now, and the cabbages had been pulverized by tramping feet and blown apart by falling shells, and the leaves, clutched in dead men's hands, were brown with dried blood.

And the faces of the soldiers covered with dried blood, were turning blue-green, as the cabbage leaves in the blue of the sun's rays. And mortification was producing on their skins the very sheen that glistered on the cabbage leaf.

But now it was not just dead soldiers that proclaimed the waste of battle. About me everywhere were broken bottles—wine bottles and whisky flasks and canteens bent beneath artillery wheels. And here and there, proud helmets of Uhlan and dragon alike—covered with dust, were beaten into just tin.

Muskets, too, clustered the land, and great guns, shot from their carriages, blazed in the sunshine among the dead. One of them had fallen flat across two German soldiers, crushing their heads into the ground.

Nor had the cavalrymen horses escaped. Beautiful, sleek steers were dead there by hundreds, and many of them had in their death agonies crushed their riders to death also.

Pieces of shells, jagged and merciless, were strewn about thickly, and as I approached the woods, grew in number. It was evident that the shell fire had been directed against the forest. I kicked my way through the debris and pierced the cool, green aisles of trees, and the birds were singing.

But below—
There, in the very trenches from which they had fired, were the German troops—they who had been, just a few days ago, happy boys of the Valley of the Rhine. It was easy to see—moved down by shells of raining lead. So thickly were they packed in, in some places, that they stood in death, for they could not fall!

Trees were shattered on every side—just as the men were shattered on every side—by the diabolical instruments men have made. Flowers and ferns were torn up by hundreds bushes and saplings had been blown out of their soil, and the nests of the

THE CALL

(By James Bernard Hogan)
Come to the floor, where the mother-land needs you;
The future calls and the great past speeds you;
Your blood and your best for the land that breeds you;
Sons and soldiers, be one to me!
Never a child that my breast has suckled
Yet at the word of the tyrant truckled;
Swift to my side with your armor buckled;
Your brothers call you from over the sea.
Can you hear the guns and the children crying
On the fields of France, where the flag is flying;
Can you hear the roll of our dead and dying?
And stop your ears with the dust of slaying
The best of the world on the world is praying.
For a full hour leave work and playing
An hour for men, with no thought of slaying
Till the beast be crushed and the slaughter cease.
Men of my race, whom the oceans sever,
From my thousand years' endeavor
Strike for that freedom, now or never,
Stand forth for England who made you free!
Come to the floor, where the mother-land needs you;
The future calls and the great past speeds you;
Your blood and your best for the land that breeds you;
Sons and soldiers, be one to me!

SEVERIAN BOYS OF TEN YEARS OF AGE FIGHT NEAR ARRAS

GUARD PRISONERS VERY SEVERE SAYS CORRESPONDENT

Town of Lens Has Changed Hands Three Times in as Many Weeks.

NOTHING ACCOMPLISHED AFTER WEEK'S FIGHTING

Allies' Position at Time of Sending Despatch Better Than Ever.

London, Oct. 14.—(11 a.m.)—The Mail military correspondent, "behind the French left wing," he gives interesting news of the condition prevailing in this field of operation and says that since Thursday conditions for the allies changed for the worst, then again for the better and that their positions at the time of sending of the despatch was stronger than ever.

"The fighting around Arras," says the correspondent, "has been exceedingly severe since last Tuesday, and Lens has changed hands at least three times in as many weeks. If the Germans could succeed in bursting the line at some point their desperate program might prevail, but so far they have failed and got their forces hopelessly scattered."

"It would be absurd, however, for that reason to say they are negligible. On the contrary, they are still capable of giving great trouble. Their cavalry lies in considerable numbers on the eastern flank of Hazebrouck, (15 miles northwest of Lille) and in the country surrounding Orchies, (15 miles southeast of Lille). All their scattered forces in the right direction northeast, while the forces threatening Hazebrouck are being driven northward."

"In short, after weeks of furious fighting they have accomplished nothing."

Bombs Dropped in Nancy.
Nancy, Oct. 14.—(11 a.m.)—Three bombs from German aeroplanes fell yesterday in the railway station near the bridge of Rue de Mondesir, in the southwestern part of the city. The bombs struck a first class passenger coach, cut the telegraph wires and injured three persons.

DANGER IN FLY POISON

"Child Battering," a monthly magazine published by the Child Battering bureau, 69 West Washington street, Chicago, has an editorial in the October issue on "The Fly Poison Peril," which reads:

"Considering the safe up-to-date methods of destroying that pest, the domestic fly, it is remarkable that people persist in using the poison fly papers. The basic toxic principle of all these papers is arsenic, one of the deadliest and most insidious of poisons. The danger to children is great, and the danger to adults is by no means insignificant. The danger is general, is proved by various items in our exchanges. We present herewith a paragraph from a letter received from a parent of a child who has been poisoned by papers which speak for itself. The letter covers the period between July 15 and August 14, inclusive, and covers 25 cases of poisoning, five fatal and 20 non-fatal or uncertain."

"Then I found extracts from papers all over the continent, giving particulars of 35 accidents to babies from drinking deadly fly poison. Of the 35 cases covered, five were fatal and the balance non-fatal or uncertain."

STANDARD TRUSTS IS APPOINTED RECEIVER FOR C. H. I. COMPANY

Yesterday morning in supreme court chambers, Mr. Justice Clement appointed the Standard Trusts company as receiver of the affairs of the Canadian Home Investment company. The order was made on the application of Mr. Douglas Armour, who appeared for a number of the contract-holders.

There was some discussion over the receivership. Mr. S. S. Taylor, K. C., for the Canadian Home Investment company directors, suggested either leaving it with the Dominion Trust company, who had been acting as trustees since the company got into difficulties, the Yorkshire Guarantee, the Imperial Trust, or the Royal Trust.

Mr. Armour insisted on the Standard Trusts company as the most satisfactory to his clients, and his lordship held that the plaintiff had the right to nominate. Mr. Justice Clement ruled adversely an objection made by Mr. T. E. Wilson on the part of the Alpha Investment company—From the News Advertiser, Vancouver, October 2.

The Standard Trusts company's office for the province of Alberta is in the Imperial Bank building, Edmonton, an dis under the management of H. R. Holland.

Those Hungry Cannon

(From "Child Battering")
The Kaiser said he was going to stagger humanity. He has staggered it. The slaughtered hordes of soldiers and of an indefinite number of murdered women and children; the burning of thousands of homes show the latter has made good. Seven thousand dead Germans in one battle, lying one body to each square yard! Magnificent! And it was up-to-date barbarity.

The Kaiser said that he would sacrifice 100,000 men if necessary, to win the French border. How easy is the sacrifice of one man's lives. The sacrifice of one Kaiser or of one czar, would be much more to the point.

The youngest, the bravest, the best dying by thousands—for what? They do not know.

Civilization is a failure. Christianity is having a hard time these days trying to appear consistent, logical and to read God's mind. Each nation reads its mind and interprets His will in different ways—according to the particular nation's lights and desires.

Nobody knows where God is laughing at the maddest millions of human beings, or weeping with the wives and children at home. In any event, He knows that civilization is a mockery and a delusion. Who knows in what form His rebus to man will come?

Parliaments, as fostered by governments, is a monster that must occasionally be fed with blood, lest he perish from lack of sustenance.

WHOLE OF POLAND WEST OF VISTULA IN GERMAN HANDS

Berlin Report Insists Muscovites Still Getting Worst of Battle.

DURING RECENT RETREAT TEUTONS NEVER DEFEATED

Deny That Oswestow Was Ever Bombarded—Will Not Occupy Suwalki.

London, Oct. 14.—(Reuter's) Amsterdam correspondent sends the following German official communication announcing events in the eastern theater of war:

"After their expulsion from east Prussia the Russian armies were pursued across the frontier. The center of the German military operations is now Poland. The whole of Poland west of the Vistula is now in German possession, the Russians occupying only Warsaw."

"The few kilometers lost by the Germans in Russian territory near the east Prussian frontier were of little importance, as it was never intended definitely to occupy or govern Suwalki. It is not true that the siege of Oswestow has been abandoned, as the fortress has never been besieged."

"During our retreat to the east Prussian frontier our troops nowhere were defeated, but on the contrary repulsed any attacks of the Russians."

JOHN BOWLAU, MACKLIN, IS CHOSEN AS LIBERAL CANDIDATE, BATTLEFORD

Saskatoon, Oct. 14.—John Bowlau, of Macklin, was yesterday selected as the Liberal candidate for the Dominion constituency of Battleford, defeating R. R. Earl, Battleford; O. Champagn, Battleford; R. J. Gordon, of Maidstone, and winning on the second ballot with a vote of 73 to Mr. Champagn's 61, at a convention held in Wilkie today. P. R. Earl, S. S. Simpson, of Battleford, and E. Laycock, of Wilkie, were also candidates, but withdrew their names before balloting took place. Mr. Bowlau is a rancher, and comes from Prince Edward Island, but has been in the west for some years.

Dated at Edmonton, October 10th, 1914.

States at the present time amounts, practically, to a refusal to pay debts. The United States owes England up to $225,000,000, and although the Bank of England has provided every facility for the transfer of the gold for the payment of these debts, the United States is not taking advantage of these facilities. Up to the present, it is understood that not more than $50,000,000 out of the $225,000,000 has been shipped up to the credit of the Bank of England, at the finance department, Ottawa. And from what can be seen at the moment no more may be sent for some time to come. Canadian bankers in many cases are not particularly critical of the action of the United States and merely mention the facts as a matter of news.

Those who interpret the "Made in Canada" campaign as applicable to practically everything used in the country would be the better of a little reflection. The above financial situation is interesting in this connection. Gold should be a much less costly freight than produce to ship across the seas, and yet it is evident that the United States has little intention of shipping the gold, but will wait and ship grain and other products in payment for the debts. In the end, of course, this will be the cheaper method and the more advantageous—possibly from the standpoint of both countries—but it is not the method which the Bank of England wants at the moment. In connection with this should also be considered the proposal that England shall not purchase these products from the United States, thus compelling the United States to pay in gold. It is simply an illustration of the off-repeated statement that a nation pays for its imports by its exports. This statement, of course, we know to be incorrect. If interpreted literally, because there is always an excess one way or another. In the main, however, it is true, because, as will be seen, large imports are made as exports are necessary if we are to make commercial progress.

At the basis of it all is the effort to produce wealth in the easiest and cheapest manner and the manifest fact that this manner calls for each to do that which he can do best and not worst. That is, if by nature or training one man is better adapted for gardening than for driving a locomotive, let him follow gardening. Thus the production of the vegetable and the raising of flowers is greater than it would otherwise be. More wealth is brought into existence by this means. Similarly, if for any reason a country is better adapted for the production of certain products of soil or factory, it is of the utmost importance to ascertain what these products are. It is upon these that we should concentrate, and not upon those for which we are least adapted.

Now, no man on earth—except Kaiser Wilhelm—can either by nature or training do everything better than others. He will be lucky if he can excel even in a single line; but whether he excels or not, let him do that which he can do best. In like manner, the nation that produces the most wealth is the one that produces everything better than any other section. If Canada can produce anything better than any other section we are lucky. But in any case, let us produce that which Canada can produce best. To do otherwise is simply to waste our efforts and to minimize our results. This is true whether applied to Canada or to South America, to agriculture or to manufacturing. For instance, Canada is peculiarly adapted for the manufacture of grain and other products of the soil. We have the space and the peace and the climate for the production of these products. The fact that the peace and the climate for the production of these products is not the same in all parts of the world is a fact that should be taken into consideration.

The decision of the people of the United States to stand by the broadest interpretation of the Panama Canal treaty for the debts. matter required some careful looking into and would take much time and adjourned the court of appeal until Tuesday evening next at 8:30 o'clock.

Will Move the Market.

In connection with the petition from stall-holders requesting that the Rice street market be allowed to continue, the parks and markets committee recommended that, owing to the fact that considerable expense had been gone to in providing a new central market on First street, the Rice street market be closed on and after November 5, and that the First street market be opened on November 7. The committee also recommended that the Rice street plot should be seeded and put into grass and used for park and playground purposes and as a public square until such time as required, and that $20 be appropriated to be given in cash prizes for the best exhibition of Alberta produce at the official opening of the new First street market. The report was adopted.

The parks and markets committee also reported that the establishment of the municipal stockade should be gone on with, but owing to financial and other conditions prevailing at present, recommended that the matter be held over till next spring. This was agreed.

NOT GUILTY OF USING FUNDS FRAUDULENTLY

Marmaduke Langdale, accused of fraudulently converting to his own use the sum of $500, was found not guilty in the supreme criminal court before Justice Hyndman on Wednesday morning.

During the month of May, Langdale was manager for the Alberta Building and Land company and $500, it was alleged, was left in his possession to pay for material used in the construction of a house for James Pyffe. This amount, it was claimed, was not used for the purpose and Langdale was supposed to have appropriated it. The evidence adduced, in the opinion of the court, was not sufficient to warrant a conviction.

tained in the death of the late ex-Alderman J. G. Tipton; and also that the survivors sympathized with the council be conveyed to his family; and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes."

The above resolution was moved by Alderman G. H. May, seconded by Alderman R. H. Douglas and unanimously adopted by the council.

NICK VALHOFF ACQUITTED OF ATTEMPTED MURDER

Nick Valhoff, accused of attempted murder, was acquitted by Justice Hyndman in the supreme criminal court Tuesday afternoon.

Valhoff and another man, Steve Ostaszuk, were in a bunk house in Peers, 100 miles east of Edmonton on July 15, when Ostaszuk was wounded by a bullet from a rifle in the hands of Valhoff.

The case hinged on whether the accused was standing up or sitting down when the shot was fired. Some of the witnesses claimed he was standing and others stated that the contrary was true. At the time Ostaszuk was lying in a bunk and it was necessary to know the position of the accused to ascertain whether or not the shooting was accidental. Medical testimony showed this the wound was such as to have been caused by a bullet coming either horizontally or at an upward angle. This tended to prove that Valhoff was sitting down when the shot was fired and that the shooting was accidental as he claimed.

Getting After Auto Speeders.

"The trouble with most motor car owners," said Magistrate Masie in police court Wednesday morning, after he had fined Edward Gilby $25 and costs for driving his car past a street car which was not moving, "is that they do not well enough know the provisions of the Motor Vehicles act. It is distinctly illegal that a motor shall not be driven by a car which has stopped or which is about to stop and I am convinced that you realized that the street car was stopped and you were coming to a halt."

Gilby ran by a street car at the corner of 10th and 11th streets on Wednesday on Friday afternoon. His excuse was that he thought he could get past it before it altogether stopped. In fact, he thought he had succeeded in doing so, he was hailed by a policeman, who took his number.

Must Pay Room Rent.

A sudden getaway from his rooming house last week failed to profit W. R. Cherry as, in addition to the sum demanded by the landlady, he was fined $10 by Magistrate Masie in police court on Wednesday morning.

According to Cherry's evidence it was all his wife's fault that the landlady should have been called to the door. Mrs. Kate Joblar, who was not notified of the departure but such an excuse was not sympathetically received by the court.

On the contrary, in vulgar language he "bawled out" Cherry for his lack of chivalry and for his willingness to shield himself from the expense of his better half. The room rent amounted to $12.75 and if it is not paid Cherry will seek the dark interior of Fort Saskatchewan for 15 days.
